Legal directory Chambers and Partners has today launched Global LawTech 2022, ranking Shoosmiths8 Connected Services Cia® and Matters+ as band one products.

This global guide is part of Chambers' professional advisor series and is its second report on the rapidly moving legal technology sector. It serves as a snapshot of the leading technology developers and vendors, as well as the foremost Incubators & Accelerators and LawTech Consultants, guiding in-house legal teams and GCs to the best legal technology products and services.

Our innovative AI contract review service, Cia®, which is managed by Shoosmiths, is ranked band one in the Vendors: Transaction Management (Contract Analysis) table Shoosmiths LLP, LawTech Vendors | Chambers Law Tech Profile

Matters+, which allows in-house legal teams to track every instruction coming into the team and track progress, is ranked band one within the Vendors, Business Management table Shoosmiths LLP, LawTech Vendors | Chambers Law Tech Profile

Tony Randle, partner and head of client strategy, said: "We are thrilled to have been ranked for two of our Shoosmiths8 Connected Services products. This clearly demonstrates that we are trailblazing in legal technology and leading the pack in terms of our products and their quality. We are proud of the products themselves, the teams behind them, and the way in which the products are brought to market swiftly. We believe in working smartly by teaming up with tech companies, allowing our lawyers to be lawyers. The result is expertly engineered products that save clients time and money, allowing them to work smarter, faster, and better than ever before."

In July Shoosmiths8 added two new products to its roster: Shoosmiths Financial Services Compliance and Shoosmiths D&I. New non-legal products are being developed all the time as a result of listening to client need.
